The Warren's beach

a letter was sent to the Town stating that "the Association wishes not only to look out for its own interests but also to help Plymouth Town officials whenever or wherever it can on all matters." And thus, Six Ponds began as the voice of our community: to advocate for the protection of our forests, pristine ponds, active wildlife and general enhancement of these natural resources for all to enjoy. Other parts of Plymouth now have Town-appointed Steering Committees to guide their interests -- Six Ponds, self-governing from the start, is its own "Steering Committee" for our geographic area, always supporting open transparent and fair local government. It is remarkable that our goals today are a mirror image of our goals on the day Six Ponds was formed . . . as rapidly as things change, what we care about does not. I shall do my very best as your President to carry this mission forward.

Fishing on Bloody Pond

Association to Preserve Cape Cod invites all to a Ponds Network Meeting

When: Thursday, August 14 Time: 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Where: Cape Cod Museum of Natural History, Brewster

There will be short presentations on pond-related updates from the Cape Cod Commission and APCC staff, and importantly, time for networking and sharing.

Come prepared to tell us some of your current projects and hear what other groups concerned with ponds are doing to keep their water healthy.

Please register here:

MOSQUITOS.... they're hard to ignore. Listen to this podcast with a quiz put together by NPR's Life Kit:

npr.org/2025/07/08/nx-s1-5429661/mosquito-bites-prevent-tips

We would also like to remind you to police your yard for mosquito breeding habitat such as blocked gutters, rain barrels, empty buckets, tarps, or any other source of standing water. Mosquitos breed quickly and water should be emptied at least twice a week to help keep their populations down, and your neighborhood safe.
